

Strategic Growth & Income Trust

(SERIES 3)

A 2 YEAR UNIT INVESTMENT TRUST

Investment Objective

The Trust seeks to provide investors with the possibility of capital appreciation and current dividend income. There is no guarantee that the investment objective of the Trust will be achieved.

Strategy of Portfolio Selection

The Trust seeks to achieve its objective through investment in the publicly traded common stock of companies and closed-end investment companies (the "Funds"). The Sponsor selects the common stock of companies and closed-end investments companies that it believes are well positioned to provide for total return potential over the term of the trust within a well-diversified, divided paying portfolio. As used herein, the term "Securities" means the shares of common stocks of companies and of the Funds initially deposited in the Trust and contracts and funds for the purchase of such securities, and any additional securities acquired and held by the Trust pursuant to the provisions of the Trust Agreement. To select the portfolio of the Trust, the Sponsor followed a disciplined process which includes both quantitative screening and qualitative analysis.

Description of Portfolio

The portfolio of the Trust contains 14 issues of common stock of companies including, among other issuers, real estate investment trusts and master limited partnerships, and 19 issues of common stock of closed-end investment companies. 100% of the issues are represented by the Sponsor's contracts to purchase. Based upon the principal business of each issuer and current market values, the following industries are represented by the common stocks of the companies in the portfolio (and does not include the Funds whose portfolios are not fixed): consumer products and services, energy, financials, industrials, materials, telecommunication services and utilities.

¹Distributions, if any, will be made commencing on August 25, 2013. The estimated net annual distribution is expected to decline over time because a portion of the securities included in the portfolio will be sold to pay for organization costs, creation and development fee and deferred sales charge. Distributions will fluctuate as a result of Unitholder redemptions in addition to securities being sold within the portfolio. Distributions are also subject to the ability of issuers to make dividend payments in the future.

³Percentages are based on a $10.00 per unit offering price. For unit prices other than $10.00, percentages of initial sales charge, creation and development fee, and deferred sales charges will vary. Early redemption will still cause payment of the deferred sales charge. The table above shows the initial offering period sales charges only.

⁴The creation and development fee is a charge of $.050 per unit collected at the end of the initial offering period. If the price you pay exceeds $10 per unit, the creation and development fee will be less than 0.50%; if the price you pay is less than $10 per unit, the creation and development fee will exceed 0.50%.

⁵The volume discount is also applied on a unit basis utilizing a breakpoint equivalent in the above table of one unit per $10. Please see the Trust prospectus for full details. These discounts are only offered during the initial offering period.

Risk Considerations

Unitholders can lose money by investing in this Trust. The value of the units, the Securities and the securities held by the Funds included in the portfolio can each decline in value. An investment in units of the Trust should be made with an understanding of the following risks:

- Since the Portfolio of the Trust is unmanaged, in general, the Sponsor can only sell Securities under certain extraordinary circumstances, at the Trust's termination or in order to meet redemptions. As a result, the price at which each Security is sold may not be the highest price it attained during the life of the Trust.
- Price fluctuations of particular Securities will change the Portfolio's composition throughout the life of the Trust. When cash or a letter of credit is deposited with instructions to purchase Securities in order to create additional Units, an increase in the price of a particular Security between the time of deposit and the time that Securities are purchased will cause the Units to be comprised of less of that Security and more of the remaining Securities. In addition, brokerage fees incurred in purchasing the Securities will be an expense of the Trust and such fees will dilute the existing Unitholders' interests.
- The risk that the financial condition of the issuers of the common stocks in the Trust and comprising the portfolios of the Funds may become impaired or that the general condition of the stock market may worsen (both of which may contribute directly to a decrease in the value of the Securities and thus in the value of the Units).
- Securities of foreign companies held by the Trust or by the Funds present risks beyond those of U.S. issuers. These risks may include market and political factors related to the company's foreign market, international trade conditions, less regulation, smaller or less liquid markets, increased volatility, differing accounting practices and changes in the value of foreign currencies.
- Certain of the Securities are shares of closed-end funds which frequently trade at a discount from their net asset value in the secondary market. The amount of such discount is subject to change from time to time in response to various factors.
- Unitholders will pay both Trust expenses and will also indirectly bear a share of each Fund's expenses.
- The Trust and certain Funds may invest in companies with smaller market capitalizations, which may have less liquid stock and more volatile prices than larger capitalized companies. Such companies also tend to have unproven track records and, to a certain extent, are more likely to perform less well or fail than companies with larger market capitalizations.
- There is no assurance that any dividends will be declared or paid in the future on the Securities.
- The sponsor may offer successive Trusts with similar portfolios thereby allowing the investor to pursue the same strategy over a number of years. Investors should consider their ability to pursue investing in successive Trusts, if available. There may be tax consequences associated with investing in the Trust and rolling over an investment from one Trust to the next.
